TIP TO RESIGNUnited States Sends an Ultimatum.MEXICAN PRESIDENT
DELAYS HIS ANSWERWell Informed Persons Believe Dictator Will Flatly Refuse to Comply.

Mexico City, Nov. 4.—President Huerta has been told he must resign the presidency of Mexico, without loss of time, and he must not leave as his successor General Aureliano Blanquet, his minister of war, or any other member of his official family, or of the unofficial coterie whom he might be expected to control.

The ultimatum from Washington was conveyed to President Huerta through his private secretary, Senor Rabago, by Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, acting under instructions from the state department.

Senor Rabago presented the memorandum to his chief late Sunday, but President Huerta has returned no answer and, as far as can be learned, has guarded its contents from almost all of his official and intimate counselors.

May Decline to Comply.

Those who learned of the Washington note regard General Huerta's position as one in which he will be forced to give one of two answers—refusal to comply with the demand, possibly going so far as to hand the diplomatic representative his passports, or the elimination of himself officially.

Those most intimate with the president insist that the latter course will not be taken, for many reasons, chief among which is that such action would be tantamount to submission to the rebels.

Official Mexico is no longer in doubt that the Washington administration favors the rebel cause and is convinced that this is the means adopted by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to assist Carranza to win.

Reads Note to Diplomats.

General Huerta summoned to the national palace the national diplomatic corps. At first the purpose of the meeting was not given out, but later the object was said to be the reading of the American note.

Three of the ministers, those of Germany, Norway and Russia, were absent. They have been in Vera Cruz, where they were in conference with President Wilson's representative, John Lind, who is understood to be fully conversant with the latest representations from Washington.

Changes in the military situation throughout the country included, according to the report, the advance of the rebels to attack Zacatecas, but the government believes that the garrison there is sufficiently strong to resist an attack successfully.

Queretaro, capital of the state of the same name on the main line of the National railway south of San Luis Potosi, is surrounded by rebels and practically in a state of siege.

TAXING OF FOREIGN
CONCERNS IS LEGALFederal Supreme Court Upholds
Massachusetts Law.

Washington, Nov. 4.—After years of vain endeavor of state authorities to tax foreign corporations doing business within their borders Massachusetts has solved the problem. The supreme court sustained as constitutional the Massachusetts foreign corporation tax law of 1909, Chief Justice Pitney and Justices Van Devanter and Pitney dissenting.

The decision was regarded by many who heard Justice Day deliver it as marking an epoch in state taxation. The Massachusetts law provides that every foreign corporation shall pay annually an excise tax of one-fiftieth of 1 per cent of its authorized stock.

Justices Day, Holmes, McKenna, Lurton, Hughes and Lamar interpreted this to mean almost the same as the federal corporation tax law, which avoided previous errors by careful phraseology. They held that this meant a tax on the privilege of doing business within the state and not a tax on the corporation outside the state.

No dissenting opinion was delivered. The dissenting members of the court are said to have held the case to be virtually identical with the Western Union and Pullman case from Kansas, wherein a Kansas tax on foreign corporations was held unconstitutional a few years ago.

WILSON'S SPEECH
ENDS ALL RUMORSMakes Administration's Attitude Toward Mexico Clear.

WANTS NO MORE TERRITORY

America's Experience in Cuba, Porto
Rico and the Philippines One Reason
Why She Does Not Seek Any More
Countries Formerly Owned by Spain.
Plucky Woman to Be Rewarded.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Since the declaration by President Wilson that the United States will not forcibly acquire any more territory, there may not be the same desire for intervention in Mexico as has been manifested by those who have looked forward to taking over the northern part of that country and annexing it to the United States.

It has been apparent for quite a long time that parties who have large interests in the northern part of Mexico have been the most strenuous advocates of intervention, while others of a more or less jingo type have talked boastfully of floating the American flag as far south as the twenty-sixth parallel.

Have Had Experience.

There was no difficulty in assimilating that part of Mexico which was taken over as a result of the last Mexican war, but since then we have had experience with Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. Although we have not yet taken over Cuba, the big island remains a heavy burden upon the government, and we know the difficulty of handling and governing the peoples which were once under the sovereignty of Spain.

The president's declaration ought to have a quieting effect all along the line, not only halting the jingoes, but affording assurance to those who do not want any more former Spanish territory added to our dominion.

A Plucky Woman.

If the house again gets a quorum it is possible that a bill which recently passed the senate may become a law, which will reward a plucky woman after a fight of three years. It relates to a claim involving irrigation work, in which a large number of people were about to lose all they had through no fault of their own. A man named MacDonald had given credit to all these people, and he, too, was ruined. Then Mrs. Katherine MacDonald, his wife, came to Washington and, after working hard for three years, seems near a realization of her hopes in having the claims paid.

Less Than One Day a Year.

Senator Perkins of California was one of the senators to whom a telegram was sent telling him to return at once and help make a quorum. He wired back that he was in ill health; that in twenty years' service he had been absent but nineteen days when congress was in session. Senator Overman of North Carolina said that he had had a general paralytic with Senator Perkins for ten years, and so constant was the attendance of the California senator that the pair had rarely been announced on a roll call. Senator Perkins came here strong and vigorous. He is now frail and feeble, but he has been one of the remarkable men in the senate on account of his devotion to his duties.

Knows His Salt Water.

Senator Lane of Oregon knows about salt water, and he told the senate a few facts when the seamen's bill was considered. "There is all the difference in the world," he said, "between an oarsman, even on the prize crew of Harvard or Oxford, and a man who can handle an oar in rough water at sea. I have handled a boat and have pulled an oar in salt water against a head wind and against a tide, and I know the difference."

A little later, replying to an interruption, he said that he had become "tired of hearing this talk by sea lawyers about handling boats at sea."

What Makes 'Em Angry.

Members of congress who feel called upon to remain here and answer the roll call get real angry over the fact that most of their colleagues are home fixing up things politically and say they intend to stay there. The men who remain in Washington are those whose constituents have a way of checking up roll calls and publishing how many times their congressman has been away when the roll was called.

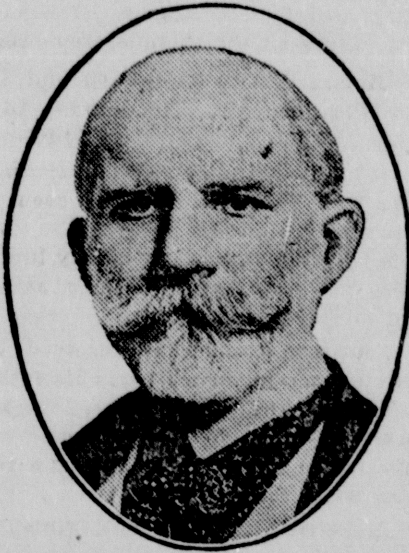

One of the counts against Congressman Holman is that he has missed more roll calls than he has answered. Some men do not care, particularly those representing city districts, but it seems to be a factor in the country districts.

Promising Crop of "Exes." "There will be a mighty large crop of 'exes' after the next election," remarked a member of the house. "For one reason or another there will be a turning out of the present membership such as has not been seen since but once in many years. Mark my word, when the election comes a year hence it will empty many seats. Lots of those who do not fall out in the primaries will lose in the elections." All of which may be termed long distance prophecy.

Anything to Quiet Him.

WOMAN DENIES SHE EVER KNEW FUNKIs Not Spared Because of Her Weakened Condition.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Josephine Henning arose from a sick bed again to deny that she ever knew Clarence S. Funk, former general manager of the International Harvester company, and that she never even saw him in court ten days ago.

In her cross-examination in the trial of Attorney Daniel Donahoe and Isaac Stiefel for conspiracy to defame Mr. Funk she was not spared because of her weakened condition.

Counsel for the defense endeavored to obtain admissions from her, but she repeatedly denied she ever had told anybody that she had gone anywhere with Mr. Funk.

Mrs. Henning was followed on the stand by her husband, who asserted that he was induced to bring suit charging Mr. Funk with alienating his wife's affections on Donahoe's promise that nothing would ever come of it and that he would be well taken care of.

Mrs. Henning had to be assisted to the stand.

Strike Sympathizers Attack Car Barns at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—The third day of the strike of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company's employees ended with no attempt to move cars.

Charges that politics has caused the police to fail to give the traction company sufficient protection to run its cars were made by candidates for office, while an effort of Sheriff Porteus to swear in 200 citizen deputies resulted in the charge being made that he had summoned the men chiefly to reduce their activities at the polls.

Thomas Carlton, a chauffeur, was shot and fatally wounded while watching a crowd of sympathizers attack the Louisiana car barns, where the strikebreakers are housed.

President Opposes Changes in Currency Measure.

NIGHT SESSIONS OF SENATE

Chief Executive May Ask Leaders to Work Longer Hours After the Bill
Is Reported in Order to Expedite
Action—Talk Is Again Renewed of Holding Democratic Caucus.

Washington, Nov. 4.—It became daily more evident that President Wilson's views on banking and currency legislation are most clearly defined. He is not disposed to concede even the suggestion of a change in the Glass measure.

The president has again indicated to the members of the senate committee on banking and currency that he will be close to the line and that projected changes in the measure whether in details or in fundamentals will prove only causes for displeasure on the part of the administration.

The amendment voted into the bill by the committee before its adjournment Saturday by which the number of regional banks was reduced from twelve to four, even with the provision that at the end of two years the federal reserve board may increase the number to the original dozen, is not acceptable to the White House.

Favors House Provisions.

The president has let it be known that the sections of the bill relating to subscriptions for capital stock in the new regional reserve banks must stand as passed by the house. He does not favor this stock being underwritten by the national banks and subscribed for by the general public. The Glass bill provides that the stock must be subscribed for compulsorily by the member banks of the projected system.

The president explained his steadfast adherence to the Glass bill by saying that he was not standing on a pivot swinging to and fro on any legislative proposition and that when he outlined a policy of procedure he did not mark it in chalk which might be rubbed out.

It became known at the Capitol that the president will ask the leaders in the senate to insist on night sessions of the senate to begin as soon as the currency bill is reported and to continue until it is passed. The Republicans probably will resist this program.

There was renewed talk of a Democratic caucus and one may yet be called to plan for expediting the bill.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Revelations of suffering undergone by Miss Sylvia Pankhurst recently greatly perturbed her mother, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, here, when she received a letter from her other daughter, Christabel.

The letter said that Miss Sylvia, again had been subjected to forcible feeding after being "starved within an inch of her life."

"Sylvia had a great and successful fight Monday, but on Tuesday was arrested by fifty policemen and a collection of plain clothes men," ran the letter. "We shall fight our best for her and the East side will no doubt play up. Annie (Miss Annie Kenney) is worse in health than she has ever been and we are making plans for her protection."

Milwaukee, Nov. 4.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis easily outpointed Gus Christie of Milwaukee in a ten-round bout here. Dillon had the better of seven of the sessions, Christie two, the second and ninth, the third round being even.

In the first Dillon staggered his man with a right swing to the jaw and in the fifth and sixth sessions the bell alone saved the Milwaukee boy. Dillon had the advantage in weight and cleverness and Christie was poor in guarding.

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 4.—Engineer J. M. Pratt of the southbound Burlington train, which was wrecked three miles south of Genoa, died at the Lutheran hospital here. One side of Pratt's face was crushed in. He is believed to have struck a stump or rock in jumping.

That vibrations of its own creation loosened the face of a towering cliff and sent down the fifty-ton rock which wrecked the train is the theory formed by railroad experts.

It relates to a claim involving irrigation work, in which a large number of people were about to lose all they had through no fault of their own. A man named MacDonald had given credit to all these people, and he, too, was ruined. Then Mrs. Katherine MacDonald, his wife, came to Washington and, after working hard for three years, seems near a realization of her hopes in having the claims paid.

Less Than One Day a Year.

Senator Perkins of California was one of the senators to whom a telegram was sent telling him to return at once and help make a quorum. He wired back that he was in ill health; that in twenty years' service he had been absent but nineteen days when congress was in session. Senator Overman of North Carolina said that he had had a general parl with Senator Perkins for ten years, and so constant was the attendance of the California senator that the pair had rarely been announced on a roll call. Senator Perkins came here strong and vigorous. He is now frail and feeble, but he has been one of the remarkable men in the senate on account of his devotion to his duties.

Knows His Salt Water.

Senator Lane of Oregon knows about salt water, and he told the senate a few facts when the seamen's bill was considered. "There is all the difference in the world," he said, "between an oarsman, even on the prize crew of Harvard or Oxford, and a man who can handle an oar in rough water at sea. I have handled a boat and have pulled an oar in salt water against a head wind and against a tide, and I know the difference."

A little later, replying to an interruption, he said that he had become "tired of hearing this talk by sea lawyers about handling boats at sea."

What Makes 'Em Angry.

Members of congress who feel called upon to remain here and answer the roll call get real angry over the fact that most of their colleagues are home fixing up things politically and say they intend to stay there. The men who remain in Washington are those whose constituents have a way of checking up roll calls and publishing how many times their congressman has been away when the roll was called.

One of the counts against Congressman Hobson is that he has missed more roll calls than he has answered. Some men do not care, particularly those representing city districts, but it seems to be a factor in the country districts.

Promising Crop of 'Exes.'

"There will be a mighty large crop of 'exes' after the next election," remarked a member of the house. "For one reason or another there will be a turning out of the present membership such as has not been seen since but once in many years. Mark my word, when the election comes a year hence it will empty many seats. Lots of those who do not fall out in the primaries will lose in the elections."

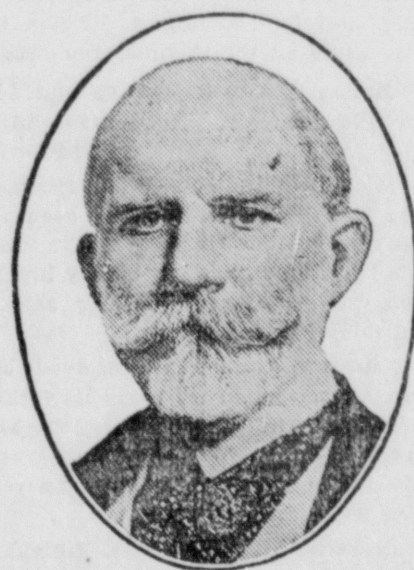

All of which may be termed long distance prophecy.

Anything to Quiet Him.

"Baby cried this morning for an hour." "Why didn't you give it to him?"—Boston Transcript.

HENRY S. BOUTELL.

Chairman of Board to Arbitrate Labor Dispute.

BOUTELL CHIEF MEDIATOR

Former Illinois Representative to Help Settle Labor Dispute.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Henry S. Boutell, former congressman from Illinois, was selected chairman of the board which will arbitrate the differences between officials and the conductors and trainmen of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad.

Five thousand of the road's employees are demanding wage increases and better working hours. The first hearing will be held here.

WOMAN DENIES SHE EVER KNEW FUNK

Is Not Spared Because of Her Weakened Condition.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Josephine Henning arose from a sick bed again to deny that she ever knew Clarence S. Funk, former general manager of the International Harvester company, and that she never even saw him until she was confronted by him in court ten days ago.

In her cross-examination in the trial of Attorney Daniel Donahoe and Isaac Stiefel for conspiracy to defame Mr. Funk she was not spared because of her weakened condition.

Counsel for the defense endeavored to obtain admissions from her, but she repeatedly denied she ever had told anybody that she had gone anywhere with Mr. Funk.

Mrs. Henning was followed on the stand by her husband, who asserted that he was induced to bring suit charging Mr. Funk with alienating his wife's affections on Donahoe's promise that nothing would ever come of it and that he would be well taken care of.

Mrs. Henning had to be assisted to the stand.

BYSTANDER FATALLY SHOT

Strike Sympathizers Attack Car Barns at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—The third day of the strike of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company's employees ended with no attempt to move cars.

Charges that politics has caused the police to fail to give the traction company sufficient protection to run its cars were made by candidates for office, while an effort of Sheriff Porteus to swear in 200 citizen deputies resulted in the charge being made that he had summoned the men chiefly to reduce their activities at the polls.

Thomas Carlton, a chauffeur, was shot and fatally wounded while watching a crowd of sympathizers attack the Louisiana car barns, where the strikebreakers are housed.

IMMIGRATION ON INCREASE

Immigrant Aliens Admitted During August Numbered 126,180.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Figures indicate that immigration to the United States is on the increase. Statistics made public by the bureau of immigration show that the total number of immigrant aliens admitted for August was 126,180, compared with 92,377 for the same month last year, or an increase of 43,803. Of the total number 84,623 were males and 41,557 females. Italy was the largest contributor, sending 31,762 aliens.

BRIDGE COLLAPSE IS FATAL

One Man Killed and Engineer and Two Firemen Injured.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—A sixty-foot span of a wooden trestle over Pamunkey river, on the west division of the Southern railway, collapsed under the weight of a combination freight and passenger train, the engine, tender and three box cars dropping into thirty feet of water. R. S. Wood of Richmond, supervisor of roadway, was killed, and the engineer and two firemen were injured.

Named to Ordnance Board.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Former Senator Cockrell of Missouri was nominated by President Wilson to be the civilian member of the army board of ordnance and fortifications, succeeding William Warner.

STANDING FIRM BY GLASS BILL

THAW'S FINAL BRIEF FILED

Requisition Improper and Law Violated in Obtaining Indictment.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 4.—The final brief for Harry K. Thaw in connection with his efforts to resist extradition from New Hampshire to New York was filed with Governor Felker.

The brief contends that the requisition is not in accordance with the rules of practice; that the laws of New York were violated in obtaining the indictment and that the requisition is not made in good faith.

The activity of William Travers Jerome in obtaining the indictment and his language at the hearings before Governor Felker are attacked.

DEPUTY KILLED BY NEGRO

Detective Also Wounded Taking Prisoner to Jail.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—Jack Martin, a deputy, was killed and J. E. Bird, a detective for the McKinley Interurban company, was perhaps fatally wounded when they were fired upon by an unidentified negro while the officers were returning from a coal mine north of town with a negro prisoner.

All available police and deputy sheriffs were rushed to the vicinity and search was begun for the slayer.

EXECUTE SPANISH OFFICER

Captain Manuel Sanchez Had Been Found Guilty of Murder.

Madrid, Spain, Nov. 4.—A firing squad of Spanish troops at dawn executed Captain Manuel Sanchez, a Spanish army officer found guilty by a court martial of the murder of Don Garcia Jalon, a wealthy land owner, last May.

Luisa Sanchez, said to be his daughter, was sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment as his accomplice.

WOODEN LEGS BROKEN.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—William Corrigan's arms and two wooden legs were broken when a wagon in which he was riding was struck by a street car. His artificial limbs were cut in two and no one would touch them, believing them to be real, until the police arrived.

A Ducal Bull.

The Duke of Abercorn made a queer oratorical muddle in a speech he delivered one day. He was speaking of the great siege of Londonderry and of how bravely the citizens had defended their city against the besieging army. "They withstood the siege," he went on, "in order that they might hand down their birthright to their ancestors, who are yourselves!"—London Mail.

Michigan Pioneer Dead.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Timothy Nester, who was active in the development of the upper peninsula of Michigan and mayor of Marquette in 1889, died here at the home of a daughter. He had been ill two years and was sixty-seven years old.

President Opposes Changes in Currency Measure.

NIGHT SESSIONS OF SENATE

Chief Executive May Ask Leaders to Work Longer Hours After the Bill Is Reported in Order to Expedite Action—Talk Is Again Renewed of Holding Democratic Caucus.

Washington, Nov. 4.—It becomes daily more evident that President Wilson's views on banking and currency legislation are most clearly defined. He is not disposed to concede even the suggestion of a change in the Glass measure.

The president has again indicated to the members of the senate committee on banking and currency that he will hew close to the line and that projected changes in the measure whether in details or in fundamentals will prove only causes for displeasure on the part of the administration.

The amendment voted into the bill by the committee before its adjournment Saturday by which the number of regional banks was reduced from twelve to four, even with the provision that at the end of two years the federal reserve board may increase the number to the original dozen, is not acceptable to the White House.

Favors House Provisions.

The president has let it be known that the sections of the bill relating to subscriptions for capital stock in the new regional reserve banks must stand as passed by the house. He does not favor this stock being underwritten by the national banks and subscribed for by the general public.

The Glass bill provides that the stock must be subscribed for compulsorily by the member banks of the projected system.

The president explained his steadfast adherence to the Glass bill by saying that he was not standing on a pivot swinging to and fro on any legislative proposition and that when he outlined a policy of procedure he did not mark it in chalk which might be rubbed out.

It became known at the Capitol that the president will ask the leaders in the senate to insist on night sessions of the senate to begin as soon as the currency bill is reported and to continue until it is passed. The Republicans probably will resist this program.

There was renewed talk of a Democratic caucus and one may yet be called to plan for expediting the bill.

SYLVIA PANKHURST SUFFERS

Mother Hears of Daughter's Forcible Feeding in Prison.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Revelations of suffering undergone by Miss Sylvia Pankhurst recently greatly perturbed her mother, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, here, when she received a letter from her other daughter, Christabel.

The letter said that Miss Sylvia, again had been subjected to forcible feeding after being "starved within an inch of her life."

"Sylvia had a great and successful fight Monday, but on Tuesday was arrested by fifty policemen and a collection of plain clothes men," ran the letter. "We shall fight our best for her and the East side will no doubt play up. Annie (Miss Annie Kenney) is worse in health than she has ever been and we are making plans for her protection."

DILLON IS THE AGGRESSOR

Indianapolis Fighter Outposts Gus Christie of Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Nov. 4.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis easily outpointed Gus Christie of Milwaukee in a ten-round bout here. Dillon had the better of seven of the sessions, Christie two, the second and ninth, the third round being even.

In the first Dillon staggered his man with a right swing to the jaw and in the fifth and sixth sessions the bell alone saved the Milwaukee boy. Dillon had the advantage in weight and cleverness and Christie was poor in guarding.

ENGINEER'S INJURIES FATAL

Train's Own Vibration Caused Huge Rock to Fall on Track.

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 4.—Engineer J. M. Pratt of the southbound Burlington train, which was wrecked three miles south of Genoa, died at the Lutheran hospital here. One side of Pratt's face was crushed in. He is believed to have struck a stump or rock in jumping.

That vibrations of its own creation loosened the face of a towering cliff and sent down the fifty-ton rock which wrecked the train is the theory formed by railroad experts.

American Author Dies.

Copenhagen, Denmark, Nov. 4.—Price Collier, an American author, died suddenly while on a visit to Count Weddel. Mr. Collier was fifty-three years old and lived at Tuxedo Park, N. Y.

HE PRESSED THE WRONG DOOR

And Consequently Chester Darling Makes a Wild Slide to the Basement This Morning

Chester Darling was the unwilling hero of an exciting adventure this morning which would make the Diamond Dick series pale into insignificance if their author read the story. Darling expected to go to Barrows at 5 o'clock in the morning to deliver some samples. He had left these in the store of the "Two Franks" in the Citizens State Bank block.

In the darkness of the early morning Darling perceived not which was the proper back door, there being three to choose from. He pressed on one which swung easily on its hinges. He stepped within and his feet shot from under as he slid down a freight chute. On the way down a quarter section of his pants covering the widest part of his anatomy gave way and left a gaping wound. No pants could ever stand the strain of a hard unyielding spike which had projected its head from the freight slide.

Mr. Darling tobogganed to the bottom and hit head-on a miscellaneous collection of boxes and barrels which are indiscriminately stored in the basement. When Mr. Darling came to he had a barrel hoop around his neck and was marooned in the basement until somebody let him out. Mr. Darling is of a retiring disposition and he said he hated like sin to let anybody know he tore his pants.

MUSIC AND DRAMA"Try to Get In!"

Is the expression used by the Sherman Kelly Stock Co. And after witnessing last night's performance we can easily see that they mean it. Hundreds were turned away as there were no seats left. The play was "The Girl of the U. S. A." Mr. Kelly and Miss Hawthorne as the two Americans, kept a constant bubble of laughter going and the balance of the company held the house with intense situations. Taken altogether, it was a very pleasing performance. Tonight they play "Whose Baby Are You?" The prices will remain the same—10, 20 and 30 cents.

Virginia Was Fifth Kingdom.

Virginia is known as the Old Dominion because it was sometimes recognized as a separate dominion. Spenser, in 1590, dedicated his "Faerie Queene" to Elizabeth, Queen of England, France, Ireland and Virginia. When James VI. of Scotland came to the English throne, Scotland was added, and Virginia was called in compliment the fifth kingdom. And as Virginia stood firm for Charles II., after the execution of his father, Charles, in gratitude, caused the arms of Virginia to be quartered with those of England, Scotland and Ireland as an independent member of the kingdom.—Kansas City Star.

In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use when any member of the family contracts a cold or a cough. Prompt use will stop the spread of sickness. S. Thousands of other families have been equally benefited and depend entirely upon Dr. King's New Discovery to cure their coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every dose helps. "CASCARETS" ALWAYS

STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

If Costive, Headachy, Bilious, Stomach Sour, Breath Bad—Clean Your Liver and Bowels

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who cant get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, cant sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Advt.

Old World Canals.

China has led the world in the matter of canal making, and to this day stands first among the nations for the skillful utilization of her inland waterways. One great canal maintains communication between Peking and Canton, a distance of 1,200 miles, and the total extent of the canals of China is over 5,000 miles. Russia owns the longest canal in the world, extending from St. Petersburg to the Chinese frontier, a distance of 4,472 miles, and also the second longest, covering 1,434 miles, between Astrakhan and St. Petersburg. As regards numbers of separate canals, Holland claims precedence, but her total mileage of inland waterways is only 930 miles.

HE PRESSED THE WRONG DOOR
And Consequently Chester Darling Makes a Wild Slide to the Basement This Morning

Chester Darling was the unwilling hero of an exciting adventure this morning which would make the Diamond Dick series pale into insignificance if their author read this story. Darling expected to go to Barrows at 5 o'clock in the morning to deliver some samples. He had left these in the store of the "Two Franks" in the Citizens State Bank block.

In the darkness of the early morning Darling perceived not which was the proper back door, there being three to choose from. He pressed on one which swung easily on its hinges. He stepped within and his feet shot from under as he slid down a freight chute. On the way down a quarter section of his pants covering the widest part of his anatomy gave way and left a gaping wound. No pants could ever stand the strain of a hard unyielding spike which had projected its head from the freight slide.

Mr. Darling tobogganed to the bottom and hit head-on a miscellaneous collection of boxes and barrels which are indiscriminately stored in the basement. When Mr. Darling came to he had a barrel hoop around his neck and was marooned in the basement until somebody let him out. Mr. Darling is of a retiring disposition and he said he hated like sin to let anybody know he tore his pants.

"Try to Get In!"

Taken altogether, it was a very pleasing performance. Tonight they play "Whose Baby Are You?" The prices will remain the same—10, 20 and 30 cents.

MAYOR HENNING

STARTS CRUSADE

Files Affidavits Charging Saloon Keeper With Selling Liquor to Minors

ASKS COUNCIL TO TAKE ACTION

Engineer Peacock Reports on N. E. Brainerd Fill—Band Asks For Appropriation

At the council session Monday night attended by all city fathers except Alderman Smith, Mayor R. A. Henning filed affidavits charging a saloon keeper with selling liquor to minors.

In his communication the mayor said: "I am herewith presenting to your body a number of affidavits showing that on October 11 1913, in the saloon of Francis Bedarf, two minors, George Sylvester and Benny Elide were sold intoxicating liquor.

Also that on other occasions other minors have had no difficulty in securing liquor.

Also that from all sources of information I have had at my command, I have come to the conclusion that minors are permitted to frequent this saloon, contrary to law.

I did not have this information at this time the council granted a new license to Mr. Bedarf or I should have presented it to your body at that time."

Mayor Henning asked the council to take such action in the matter as would be for the good of the city and assistance in the enforcement of the law in regard to the sale of liquor to minors.

The affidavits submitted included those of Louis Paulson Martin Elide, Peter Benson and others.

"Six weeks ago," said the mayor, "I gave all saloon keepers notice to meet me at the city hall and at that time, when practically every saloon keeper of the city was present, I warned them that the law prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors should be observed to the letter. We have in Brainerd a half a dozen boys who are worthless and are dragging other boys down. No liquor should be sold to them."

When a councilman suggested submitting the case to the county attorney, Mr. Henning said that in one case that office had not given the heartiest cooperation, the county attorney being engaged elsewhere at the grand jury session. In a subsequent case, however, County Attorney Swanson had done his best to get at the foundation of the trouble and find what saloonkeepers had sold the minors liquor.

The council ordered a hearing of the charges for the next regular meeting, November 17, the saloon keeper affected being given notice to attend.

Wm. Nelson, secretary of the water and light board, called the attention of the council to section 138 of the city charter which provides that the city shall own and operate all water and light meters.

"This is a good rule as far as the electric meters are concerned," said Mr. Nelson, "but in the opinion of the water and light board members it should not apply to the water meters. We have now 49 water meters in use, and it will be only a short time, at the rate the meters are being installed when enough consumers will be metered to affect our revenue. To make it more plain, those who now voluntarily install meters are people who we consider our best flat rate consumers, paying the maximum rate, but in fact using no more water than some consumers paying less than half this rate under the flat rate system. Your attention is merely called to this fact, that you may be familiar with the conditions and the problems confronting this department."

Street Commissioner Paine's report for October included these items:

Manhole on 7th St. ----- $ 56.77

Repairs on streets ----- 34.04

Grading on 7th St. ----- 37.97

Tarring on Sixth St. ----- 14.69

Chief of Police Quinn reported 40 arrests in October, 8 state cases, 32 city cases. There were 12 cases of drunkenness and 10 cases of disorderly conduct.

In answer to the board of control, which condemned the city lockup, Mayor Henning in his communication referred to the $400 improvements made at the old lockup. "In the way of permanent improvements the city has purchased a site for a new city building, in which it is contemplated to house all the present city departments, including city hall fire house, city lockup and water and light board. It is our intention to, as soon as the necessary details can be taken care of, to submit to the board the question of a bond issue for the new building."

The city clerk's report of receipts and disbursements for the month ending October 31st, 1913 was read, accepted and placed on file. It stated:

THE GOOD ROADS ARE APPRECIATED

Minneapolis Automobile Enthusiasts Visit This Section and Are Loud in Their Praises

HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS GOOD

St. Albans is an Ideal Spot for Summer Tourist and Hunters Find Game in Abundance

G. Roy Hill, secretary of the Minneapolis Automobile Club, and a party of friends visited Crow Wing county recently, and so well impressed was he with conditions in this section that he writes the following for the Minneapolis Journal:

To the uninitiated, duck-hunting in northern Minnesota in an automobile means not only the usual hard work and grief attendant upon the quest for the feathered beauties, but an even greater bugbear looms up in the shape of rough and impassable roads and poor, to very poor hotel accommodations. However, to those who venture there is in store for them a surprise indeed.

We left for St. Albans, on Mille Lac, Garrison P. O., Oct. 22, and it is difficult now to recall any stretch of bad road over 200 feet in length and extremely few of these. After leaving Robbinsdale the Osseo road for nearly the entire distance to Champlin is a near-boulevard. From Champlin to Monticello on the west side of the river through Dayton and Osgood the roads have been newly graded and with the exception of one or two very short stretches are among the best clay gravelled roads in Minnesota. It was only a very few years ago that this road was practically impassable and the farmers who are responsible for its building and upkeep are certainly deserving of a great deal of credit. We crossed the river at Monticello to the East River road, where we ran into the new roadbed that is being constructed from Becker south to Big Lake. While in the earlier part of the season this road was almost impassable, it is now in fine condition. It is wide, well drained and with the addition of a few inches of gravel can be easily kept in first-class shape.

The road from this point into St. Cloud is good to very good, and there isn't a place that will prevent one from going as fast as they wish. Out of St. Cloud toward Roylton the road is rutty in spots, occasioned by heavy loads of lumber, etc., but after a few miles out we ran into the good prairie roads and these were very good into Roylton and beyond to Little Falls.

From Little Falls to Brainerd the roads as a whole are better than fair. They are rough for a few miles out of Little Falls and then the old-fashioned prairie trail is struck, which, while being a little sandy in places, enables you to travel at all times at not less than twenty-five miles an hour. Just this side of Brainerd the county commissioners have constructed a few miles of wide, graded and ditched clay-gravel road. It was an agreeable surprise indeed to encounter a modern road so far north from home and where we had been led to believe the good roads spirit had not as yet permeated. The mile or two before entering Brainerd is through rather heavy sandy, although not heavy enough to necessitate changing gears. Nearly as soon as we saw the lights of Brainerd in the distance we were again on good hard going, which meant we were within the city limits. Brainerd's streets are all wide, well graded and drained and would put to shame a number of the streets in our much larger cities.

We had dinner at the New Ransford and the meal was an exceptionally good one, else our appetites, sharpened by the afternoon ride made up for any deficiency in the culinary department. However, we had dinner there the following Sunday and we were equally impressed with the good things to eat and the efficient dining room service.

We were somewhat fearful about starting inland to Garrison, lest the condition of the roads might prove our undoing. However, we were assured that the roads were good and we started at 8 p. m. with a full moon to guide us. For the first eight miles out of Brainerd we ran over beautiful, wide clay-gravel roads, which we afterward understood had been built in the last two years by the county commissioners. It was surely a treat, this beautiful road over swamps, through cuts and all running straight as a die through cut-over country of the north where the giant pines had not long since ceased to reign supreme. From there on to our destination there were many evidences of road work and the road from Brainerd to St. Albans can easily be made without shifting a gear or running under twenty-five miles an hour. In many places along the route the road bisects small patches of second growth pine and spruce and the moon shimmering through the giant tops made a setting not soon to be forgotten.

Arriving at Midland we ran into our first wintry blast from Mille Lac and I never expected to see a brighter or more beautiful moon than shown across that great expanse of water and seemed to accentuate the irregularity of the shore line along which the road passed and shaped it into myriads of caverns and pitfalls through which the wind seemed to howl and lap the great waves into foam to be deposited into the giant

DISTRICT COURT TODAY

Judge W. S. McClenahan Hears the Telephone Co. Mandamus Case Against City

At this morning's first session of the district court, Judge W. S. McClenahan heard the mandamus case of the Minnesota Telephone Co. against the city wherein the company seeks to have the city accept the plat of its lines and exchance which it desires to build in the city. The judge took the case under advisement and his decision will be announced later.

Assistant Attorney General A. J. Edgerton, of St. Paul, is in the city preparing for the prosecution of the so-called "kidnaping" case, which he hopes to have on the calendar the first thing tomorrow. This is the action wherein Teodor Sjogren, a miner, charges he was kidnaped from Crosby at the time of the miner's strike.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Strickler, Jr., Guests of Honor at Home of John Zander, Friday

A reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Strickler, Jr., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Zander last Friday evening. Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Strickler were present and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all. They surprised their friends by announcing their quiet marriage at the home of the bride's mother at Osage, Iowa, on October 25.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Evangelical church presented them with a white silkoline quilt. Hugo Kaatz and Miss Bertha Strickler rendered selections on the violin and piano. Mrs. John Zander also favored the company with several solos.

Bountiful refreshments were served after which those present engaged in a hearty song service.

Commercial Manager of Northwestern Telephone Exchange Co. Goes to Albert Lea

HE IS GIVEN BETTER POSITION

A. A. Gieret, of Grand Forks, Is Made Commercial Manager of the Brainerd Exchange

Recognizing the ability of T. H. Considine, former commercial manager of the local Northwestern Telephone Exchange company, the company has promoted him and given him a larger and growing field as the commercial manager of the Albert Lea exchange.

Mr. Considine has been a valued employee of the local telephone company for three years and in that time has built up the system, increased the number of local subscribers and has aided in the establishment of numerous rural lines. If any one doubts that the Brainerd exchange and the territory served is not in better condition at the end of three years, all that is necessary is to compare the telephone book of three years ago with the directory about to be issued from the Brainerd Dispatch presses.

Mr. Considine was active in lodge circles and in athletics and managed this year's champion pennant-winning baseball team. He stirred up interest in the Bush banquet and shared in the honors of making that homecoming reception a success.

He is succeeded in Brainerd by A. A. Gieret, of Grand Forks, a young man who has been successful in the field of telephone activities and who will seek to duplicate his success in Brainerd.

Miss Harrison and Mrs. Cody Appear in Recital Before the Club

Mrs. M. T. Dunn and Mrs. Henry Annemann were hostesses of the Musical club Saturday afternoon, November 1, for which they had provided a most excellent program.

The club was glad to welcome as new members of musical talent Miss Harrison, director of public school music, and Mrs. Cody who gave the recital Saturday afternoon.

Miss Harrison delighted the audience with her unusually pleasing personality. None failed to appreciate the sweetness of her voice.

Mrs. Cody gave a varied selection all of which were rendered in a finished style. Her Irish folk songs were especially well interpreted and showed excellent individual tones.

Mrs. Johnstone, as accompanist, contributed much to the success of the program.

MAYOR HENNING STARTS CRUSADE

Files Affidavits Charging Saloon Keeper With Selling Liquor to Minors

ASKS COUNCIL TO TAKE ACTION

Engineer Peacock Reports on N. E. Brainerd Fill—Band Asks For Appropriation

At the council session Monday night attended by all city fathers except Alderman Smith, Mayor R. A. Henning filed affidavits charging a saloon keeper with selling liquor to minors.

In his communication the mayor said: "I am herewith presenting to your body a number of affidavits showing that on October 11 1913, in the saloon of Frank Bedard, two minors, George Sylvester and Benny Elide were sold intoxicating liquor.

Also that on other occasions other minors have had no difficulty in securing liquor.

Also that from all sources of information I have had at my command, I have come to the conclusion that minors are permitted to frequent this saloon, contrary to law.

I did not have this information at the time the council granted a new license to Mr. Bedard or I should have presented it to your body at that time."

Mayor Henning asked the council to take such action in the matter as would be for the good of the city and assistance in the enforcement of the law in regard to the sale of liquor to minors.

The affidavits submitted included those of Louis Paulson Martin Elide, Peter Benson and others.

"Six weeks ago," said the mayor, "I gave all saloon keepers notice to meet me at the city hall and at that time, when practically every saloon keeper of the city was present, I warned them that the law prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors should be observed to the letter. We have in Brainerd a half a dozen boys who are worthless and are dragging other boys down. No liquor should be sold to them."

When a councilman suggested submitting the case to the county attorney, Mr. Henning said that in one case that office had not given the heartiest cooperation, the county attorney being engaged elsewhere at the grand jury session. In a subsequent case, however, County Attorney Swanson had done his best to get at the foundation of the trouble and find what saloonkeepers had sold the minors liquor.

The council ordered a hearing of the charges for the next regular meeting, November 17, the saloon keeper affected being given notice to attend. Wm. Nelson, secretary of the water and light board, called the attention of the council to section 138 of the city charter which provides that the city shall own and operate all water and light meters.

"This is a good rule as far as the electric meters are concerned," said Mr. Nelson, "but in the opinion of the water and light board members it should not apply to the water meters. We have now 49 water meters in use, and it will be only a short time, at the rate the meters are being installed when enough consumers will be metered to affect our revenue. To make it more plain, those who now voluntarily install meters are people who we consider our best flat rate consumers, paying the maximum rate, but in fact using no more water than some consumers paying less than half the rate under the flat rate system. Your attention is merely called to this fact, that you may be familiar with the conditions and the problems confronting this department."

Street Commissioner Paine's report for October included these items: Manhole on 7th St. $56.77 Repairs on streets 34.04 Grading on 7th St. 37.97 Tarring on Sixth St. 14.69 Grading on 4th St. 53.58 Grading on 6th St. 34.97 Manhole on 6th St. 9.06 Paving on 4th St. 288.68 Manhole on 4th St. 1.96 Burying dog 1.00 Repairs on crossings 4.41 Crushing rock 169.60 Cleaning streets 39.37 Manhole on Laurel St. 14.02 Work on cemetery hill 31.66 Pit at dumping grounds 37.11 Boulevard on 6th St. 28.04 Cleaning ditch basins 24.68 Chief of Police Quinn reported 40 arrests in October, 8 state cases, 32 city cases. There were 12 cases of drunkenness and 10 cases of disorderly conduct.

In answer to the board of control, which condemned the city lockup, Mayor Henning in his communication referred to the $400 improvements made at the old lockup. "In the way of permanent improvements the city has purchased a site for a new city building, in which it is contemplated to house all the present city departments, including city hall fire house, city lockup and water and light board. It is our intention to, as soon as the necessary details can be taken care of, to submit to the board the question of a bond issue for the new building."

We found St. Albans, located at Garrison, on the shore of Mille Lac, to be a very pleasant summer resort. Boating, bathing, tennis, fishing and hunting in season. While our bag consisted of only fifty mallards it was not because there was no more game there. Partridge and chicken shooting was extremely good and the idea that we must go out of our own state for real hunting is a mistake indeed. St. Albans has its own farm which supplies its table with fresh vegetables eggs, milk, etc., and the rates are reasonable. The proprietor Mr. Barnard, is a typical English host and the regret is that the days spent at St. Albans pass all too soon.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. MAYOR HENNING STARTS CRUSADE

Frank W. Ackerman and Andrew G. Lagerquist were approved.

The city will purchase five more Tungsten lights.

Alderman Anderson's motion carried that two Tungsten lights be taken from Northeast Brainerd and replaced with arcs from the north side. To the aldermen of the second and third wards was left the matter of lights of the Mill district.

The city attorney was instructed to look up the title to the land on which the Northeast Brainerd ravine bridge stands and to confer with the Northern Pacific railway officials in St. Paul about it.

Many claims and the usual payrolls were allowed and ordered paid. They included city officers $457.66; Park opera house $50 rent; police department $475; special police Hallowsen night $4; volunteer firemen $29.25; hydrant rental $175, etc.

Alderman Haake was appointed to confer with the city weighmaster, Otto Reinhardt, about the rent to be paid for the use of the city scales.

A number of poor relief bills were allowed. Charles L. Pillsbury, consulting expert, was paid $150 for his services in the gas franchise, etc. The library bills and bills of the Hatch Fuel & Cement Co. were ordered paid.

The mayor appointed Rev. E. E. Satterlee a delegate to attend the convention of the International Purity association at Minneapolis.

The council granted the liquor license of Tom Bosley who asked to remove from 717 Laurel street to 609 Laurel street. The transfer of Albert J. Ehret to A. A. Davis was granted. A liquor license was granted Iver Holden.

Wm. Nelson, president of the Booster club, spoke about the need of a public market and the sentiment which favored the institution of such a market. He said the charter gave the city the right to establish such a market.

Alderman Lagerquist thought it a good plan to have a market and his views were coincided in by Alderman Haake.

Alderman Haake suggested appointing a committee and Alderman Betzold also favored the market. Alderman Mahlum moved that a committee of five be appointed to take up the market proposition and report to the council at the next meeting. The committee, as appointed, consists of Aldermen Stallman, Peterson, Anderson, Gadup and Mahlum.

Alderman Anderson, of the adding machine committee, asked for and was given more time.

The Brainerd City band presented a resolution that an appropriation be given the organization by the city. A. J. Loom appeared for the band. He said that a few public-spirited citizens had annually paid their share to support the band, but that the support should be made more general and not come from the few every time. The council would have to contribute or the band would cease to play. A half-mill tax, as the new state law allowed, would yield $1,250. The band expenses included the salary of the leader $50 a month, new music and other charges. At the union rate each musician should receive $1.50 for one and a half hour playing. The men practiced during the winter months and played twice a week. For this season the boys would draw each $5 or $6. It would take at least $1,000 to properly support the band. St. Cloud paid out $1,500 annually for its band and Rochester, Minn., gave $10,000 a year. The matter will be considered by the council and action will probably be taken at the next meeting.

The council ordered that a darload of wood be distributed among the poor of the city.

On the advice of the city engineer and the city attorney the committee on the Hayes claim reported that the city was not responsible for the damage done by the water main.

The city attorney reported that he had written the board of control that the city would proceed with all due diligence to comply with the recommendations for an improved city jail, and that a plan was being considered for a joint city-county jail.

Alderman Mahlum said a committee of three and the president should confer with the county commissioners to build such a joint jail, for unless the county authorities took the steps to get the county jail in proper shape, it too would be condemned. It might be a feasible proposition to have a joint jail heated by one heating plant, the cost of maintenance and operation of the jail to be divided between the city and county. On the committee appointed were Alderman Haake, Engineer Peacock, Alderman Haake and President Lagerquist.

City Engineer Peacock reported on the cost of a fill to replace the present N. E. Brainerd ravine bridge. At 25 cents a yard for filling the cost would approximate $16,702.35, distributed as follows: Filling at 25 cents a yard $11,622.50; concrete culvert $1,087.50; pavement $2,310; sidewalks $288; curbing $324; guards $275; five per cent for contingencies $795.35. The engineer figured on an eight foot sidewalk and a 35-foot street. The culvert was to be 4 by 5 feet in size and of concrete. The matter of doubt was the cost of the filling. By steam shovel it might come to 18 cents or 20 cents a yard. By wagon the price would amount to 50 cents. It would require 46,500 cubic yards to properly fill the ravine.

Alderman Peterson reported on the work for poor relief and stated that A. M. Opsahl had offered a room for the storage of old clothes. Mr. Peterson suggested that a day be set apart for the collection of the clothing and that he would give the services of his team and Alderman Lagerquist of his auto and that with the help of the aldermen, the Booster club, the Bachelor Maids and other public spirited associations and people, something would be done for poor relief which would show appreciable results. The council took this view of the matter and Mr. Peterson said the date when the collections would be made would be announced in the Dispatch.

Handel's Big Earnings.

Handel made more money from his works than any composer before his time. For a "Te Deum" and a "Jubilate," written to celebrate the treaty of Utrecht, he was awarded a pension of £200 a year. This was doubled by George I. soon after his accession and confirmed by George II. That Handel drew the pension until his death in 1759. Altogether for these two compositions Handel received £18,800. Although he lost thousands of pounds running opera at Covent Garden, Handel died worth £20,000—a sum, allowing for the difference in the value of money, equal to £60,000 nowadays.—London Mail.

"After you became wealthy," said the biographer, "you found yourself much sought after?"

WRIGLEY'S

is causing unscrupulous persons to wrap rank imitations that are not even real chewing gum so they resemble genuine WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT. The better class of stores will not try to fool you with these imitations. They will be offered to you principally by street fakirs, peddlers and the candy departments of some 5 and 10 cent stores. These rank imitations cost dealers one cent a package or even less and are sold to careless people for almost any price.

We are inserting this advertisement solely to protect our customers, who are continually writing us that they have been deceived by imitations which they purchased thinking they were WRIGLEY'S.
